About FaDaF

The non-profit Professional Association German as a Foreign and Second Language (FaDaF e.V.) is the largest and most important consortium of German institutes and individuals who are dedicated to teaching and researching the German language. The association works together with many public institutions, such as the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) and the "Hochschulrektorenkonferenz" (University Rectors Conference – HRK). It is responsible for the academic supervision of the "Deutsche Sprachprüfung für den Hochschulzugang" (German Language Examination for University Access – DSH).

FaDaF Consortium: Eight Language Institutes

FaDaF regularly puts together a consortium of academically oriented institutes that offer German courses. The consortium introduces itself in this brochure. It is made up of eight institutes that offer the following standards:

- High level of quality
- Close ties to universities
- Specialisation on courses that prepare students for a course of studies at university
- Courses available throughout the year
- Regular entry possible on all levels
- Additional services (support in obtaining visas and accommodation, cultural activities, student advisory services, ...)
- Good price/performance ratio (non-profit)

Information regarding the institutes that belong to the FaDaF consortium can be found at:
www.uni-german.de/en/
